

Journal of Romanian Studies

Book Review Guidelines

We invite scholars to review recent works on all aspects of Romanian and Moldovan history, politics, and society. If you wish to review for us, please e-mail the Book Review Editor, Iuliu Raiu (ratiu.pfa@gmail.com).

Please include a brief biographical note indicating your qualifications for reviewing the work in question in your submission.

Review guidelines:

- Reviews should typically be 750–1000 words in length. We may also publish longer review essays—please send proposals for these to the Book Review Editor.
- Reviews should assess the strengths and weaknesses of the book and locate it within the current field of scholarship.
- Reviews should be written in clear and concise prose and addressed to a broad interdisciplinary readership of scholars.
- Reviews should use US punctuation and spelling.
- Transliteration should follow the Library of Congress system.
- Do not include footnotes or bibliography in your review.
- Please include the book details at the beginning of the review, using the following format:
Author /Editor Name. Title. Place of publication: Publisher, Year.
Number of pages.
- Please provide your full name and institutional affiliation, or city, at the end of the review.
