Announces:

The Fifteenth Annual Graduate Student Essay Prize

The Society for Romanian Studies (SRS) is pleased to announce the Fifteenth Annual Graduate Student Essay Prize competition for an outstanding unpublished essay or thesis chapter. The submitted single-author work must be written in English by a graduate student in any social science or humanities discipline on a Romanian or Moldovan subject, broadly and inclusively understood.

The 2023 prize consists of $150 plus an individual, one-year membership to SRS that includes a subscription to the journal, valued at $75. The second-place award of honorable mention includes a one-year subscription to the journal.

The competition is open to current MA and doctoral students or to those who defended dissertations in the academic year 2022–2023. The submitted work should have been completed within the last two academic years and should not have been published yet. If the essay is a dissertation chapter, it should be accompanied by the dissertation abstract and table of contents. Expanded versions of conference papers are also acceptable if accompanied by a description of the panel and the candidate's conference paper proposal. Candidates should clearly indicate the format of the essay submitted. Essays/chapters should be up to 10,000 words double-spaced, including citations.

Candidates should clearly indicate their institutional affiliation. Include as well your current e-mail and postal addresses so that you may be contacted. Questions can be directed to the chair of the committee, Dr Aleksandra Djuric-Milovanovic, at saskadjuric@yahoo.com. Please send a copy of the essay, any accompanying documentation (as both Word and PDF please) and an updated CV to iploscariu@gmail.com

Applicants are not required to be members of SRS in order to apply.

Deadline for submissions is Friday 18 August 2023. The winners will be announced on 17 November 2023.
